What matters most in life? Many would say health and wealth. Many visitors to Kisiizi would say that in general as long as people are healthy, the rains come and the crops produce, then life is good. However all too often reality bites and health fails, land is sold to pay for drugs and ultimately burial. So while Kisiizi Partners takes care of the health aspect, contributing to the support of Kisiizi Hospital and all that implies. Another part of Kisiizi Partners, called Kisiizi Orphans, addresses the problem of the wealth part of the equation – or at least the means to acquire it, especially after the death of the head of the household. The modern day key to wealth (if you have not inherited it) is education and employment.

Kisiizi Orphans works with families in the environs of Kisiizi who are struggling to provide their children with the basic essentials for school. Most of our money comes from regular sponsorship. One off donations can purchase:

£5 – milk for an infant for a month or a mosquito net or a Bible in Rakiga

£10 – a pair of shoes or health insurance for a year

£30 – can cover the costs of starting a child in the sponsorship scheme
